

- Does your child or someone you support engage in challenging or dangerous behaviour?
- Does your child or someone you support struggle to complete daily tasks (e.g., dressing, tooth brushing)?
- Does your child or someone you support struggle to communicate or follow directions?
- Have you been told to seek 'behaviour intervention' but don't know where to go?
- Do you want to see your child or those that you support grow and experience a greater quality of life?

If you answered 'Yes' to any of the above,

Lojic Institute

can help!

Promoting growth through specialist behaviour solutions

Lojic Institute offers specialist clinical behaviour services for individuals who display challenging or dangerous behaviour.

Our Sydney-based Services Include:

Lojic Behaviour

- Specialist clinical behaviour services for individuals who display challenging or dangerous behaviours
- Services include comprehensive functional behaviour assessment, positive behaviour support plan, intervention and plan implementation, and support network training

Lojic Life

- Specialist clinical behaviour services to assist clients in developing life skills and increasing their independence
- Services include skill assessment, plan development, plan implementation, and support network training

Lojic Capacity

- Evidence based development, training and coaching support for individual support team/s to improve practice and achieve optimum quality of life outcomes for individuals

Lojic Educate

- Support for professional development of human services practitioners
- Access to existing online competency-based learning material
- Development of tailored online competency-based material and training and development seminars, workshops and courses, as well as coaching and mentoring

What makes Lojic Institute different?

1. Specialist Staff

Lojic Behaviour clinical staff are tertiary trained professionals with qualifications, knowledge and experience in the specialist area of applied and functional behaviour analysis (ABA), positive behaviour support, communication, skill development, and challenging behaviour. We firmly believe these specialist skills are the key to effective assessment and intervention outcomes for individuals. Our clinicians are experienced in the application of these skills to disability, education, child safety, and other community services settings.

2. Unique intervention approach – practical & trained coaching support

It has been our experience that people experiencing the effects of challenging behaviour are often feeling at the end of their knowledge and skills. They feel unsupported and misunderstood in their attempts to manage the situation they find themselves in. They are also the people who know the client the best and are in the best position to assist the client with the right support.

Lojic Behaviour uses a practical team approach and evidence-based intervention to ensure quality outcomes are achieved for individuals and their support network. This includes the use of trained behaviour coaches to support you/your family in the home environment to ensure the developed implementation plans are valid, useful, user-friendly and able to be actioned across the settings and activities. Coaching staff are hands on. They will work in the environment alongside you. It is our aim to ensure that all support people involved are left better informed, knowledgeable, skilled and confident in their ability to continue to respond successfully to behaviours of concern.

What else will you get through Lojic Institute?

- Active partnership with you/your staff/stakeholders
- Collaboration with and integration of other professional services (e.g, speech language, occupational therapy, physiotherapy etc) into team approach
- Access to training and development opportunities, organisational and community support and learning groups
- Contemporary practice based on latest research developments.

What does the process involve?

Lojic Institute can be accessed through self-referral or referral by others – (contact details on back)

Following an initial consult at your home/premises to clarify your particular situation and needs, a Lojic Institute clinician will discuss the various options and packages available to you. Options can be tailored to meet your needs and budget.

Check out our website for more information on our services, fees, and packages.

We invite you to experience the unique impact of Lojic and look forward to working with you!

Lojic Institute is part of Community Services Australia Ltd and is a company founded and based on specialist applied behaviour principles.

We provide services in:

South Western Sydney, Illawara, and Eastern Suburbs

If you are interested in any of the services Lojic Institute offers:

- Logic Behaviour
- Logic Life
- Logic Capacity
- Logic Educate

Contact:

Lojic Institute

PO Box 173 Miranda NSW 1490

Phone: 0436 603 674

Email: lojicsydney@csgroup.org.au • Website: www.lojic.com.au

Promoting growth through specialist behaviour solutions